DIAGONAL, VERTICAL AND HORIZONTAL AXES OF INTERPRETATION REGARDING THE PAST AND THE FUTURE

In the following chapter you will learn to recognise the connections between the diagonal, vertical and horizontal axes of interpretation.

Picture 1 shows you how to read the axes.

The blue axes go back all the way into the past, whereas the green axes represent the events yet to come.

As a rule of thumb, I would advise you to start with the horizontal axes of interpretation and then move on to the vertical ones. These are our main axes of interpretation.

As you have already learned in the Basic Course, it is always a good idea to look for the most important cards (the Personality- and / or Topic Cards that interest you most) first and then interpret the axes.

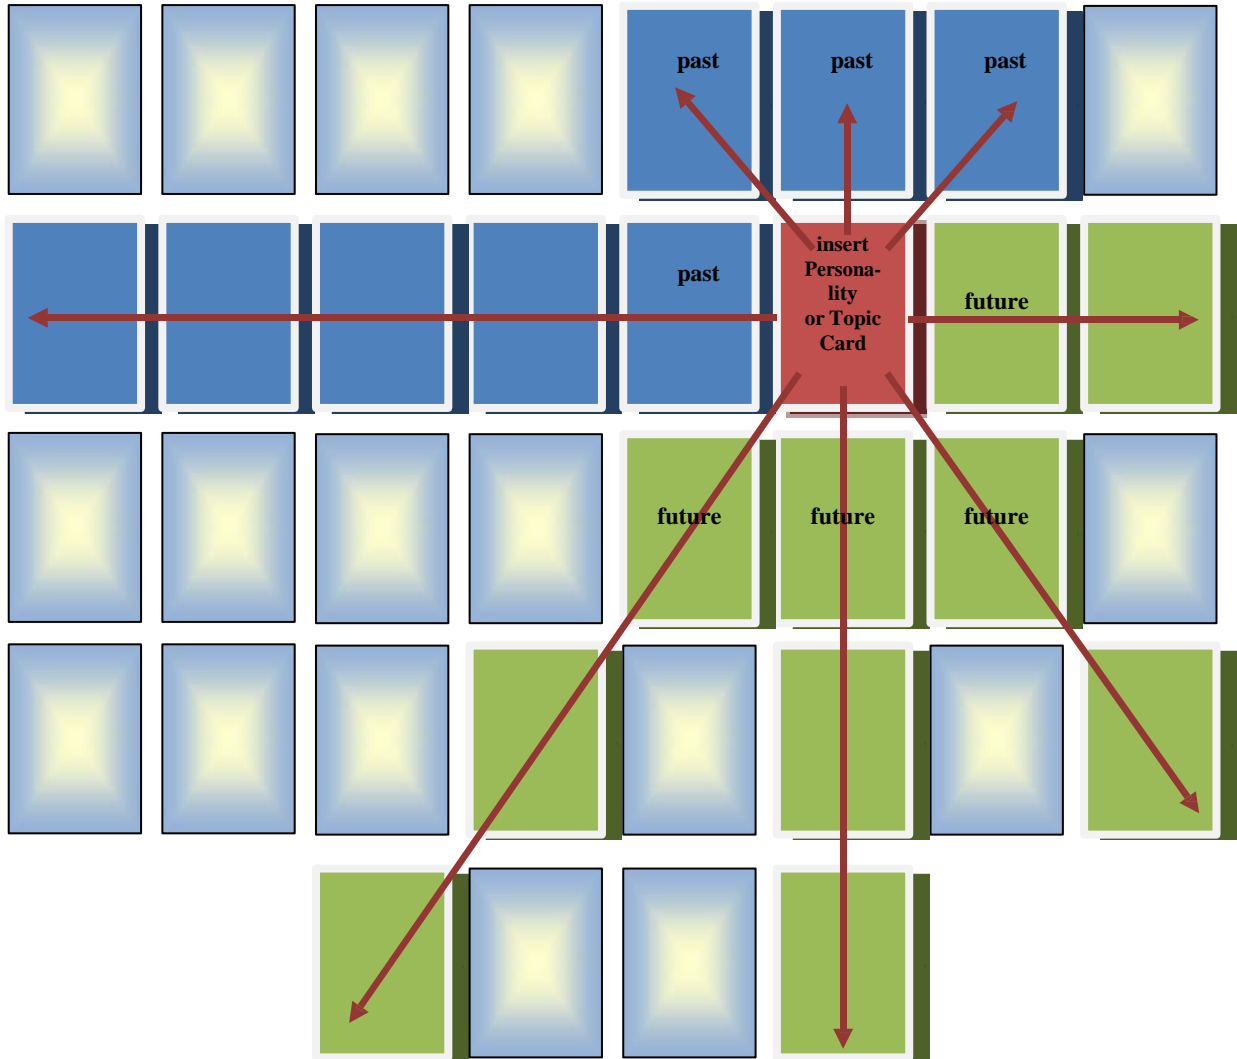

As the future results from the actions undertaken in the present and the past, I would also suggest to look at the past (blue horizontal axis) and read from right to left, before taking a look into the future (green axis, from left to right).

You will also remember that the diagonal axes of interpretation represent a possible outcome or further information about what could possibly be done.

COMBINATIONS WITH RAT AND COFFIN

In this chapter we're going to approach a tricky field of interpretation: the so called negative or sickness cards.

No 8 Coffin as well as the card No 23 Rat are indicators for negative feelings, negative incidents or even sickness of some kind.

Depending on the combination of the cards you can even read the type of sickness or upcoming event.

But as it is a dangerous business to get out in the open with such information you have to be really careful dealing with customers in this field.

Please don't ever try to give a specified answer to such questions as 'Will I get cancer?' You are no physician and therefore you shouldn't even attempt to engage in this field.

You should however try to warn you customer that some kind of health problem is bothering them. But make sure you tell them to visit a proper doctor for further medical diagnosis.

Another piece of advice:

Please make sure you are very firm in this kind of interpretation before you attempt to tell your customers anything about this kind of health problems. It is your responsibility to warn your customers but you can cause a lot of personal trouble by involuntarily scaring a customer with a sickness that they might not have just because you misinterpreted the spread.

- ✚ Sicknesses are indicated by the following cards:
No 8 Coffin and No 23 Rat .
- ✚ The cards can appear in any axis (i.e. horizontal, vertical and vertical axes of interpretation.)
- ✚ They need only be connected to each other in some way or other, which means that it is enough if they appear within the same axis, even if they are separated by other cards positioned in between!.

ALL THE TIME CARDS AT A GLANCE

(.....)

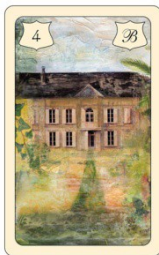

Here's your first example:

No 2 Clover Leaf

soon, 2 hours, 2 days,
2 weeks

The cards displayed are as follows:

No 4 House + No 27 Letter + No 2 Clover Leaf

My interpretation:

There will soon be a positive message at home.

or alternatively:

There will be a positive message at home no later than
Within the next few weeks.

As you can see, there is more than one way to involve the Time Card in your interpretation.

FUTURE CARDS

Basically there are four cards which are defined as Future Cards.

These are:

-  No 5 Tree
-  No 26 Book
-  No 35 Anchor
-  No 36 Cross

As you already know the basic meaning of these cards and have worked with them many times, it is not easy to recognise and analyze them as cards with a double meaning in the “heat of the action”.

This is perfectly normal and does not bastardize or adulterate your interpretation.

If you fail to recognise the extra meaning as a Future Card, your interpretation will still be correct, but it will lack this important aspect.

For this reason I would recommend copying the names of the four Future Cards and other important little hints on a piece of paper, so you can always make sure you have not forgotten any aspects of your interpretation.

The Future Cards are read in the following way:

From the 1st up to the Future Card From the Future Card into the distant future

We will use the Future Card No 26 Book:

As the first few cards remain the same, we can practically copy what we have said before. (.....)

→ Remember that the Sun Card can also symbolize the South, or be seen as a Time Card in its own right and resemble the summer.

Hint:

Please remember that it can sometimes be a much better idea to skip the “Future” meaning of a Future Card and stick to the most basic meaning. It is therefore inevitable to look out for all possible connotations when working with the Future Cards and counter-check your interpretation with the overall context and given situation, in order to make sure that you have covered them in the right way.
